MEMORANDUM FOR: Director, Office of Basic Intelligence
FROM: Acting Chief, Map Library Division
SUBJECT: Distribution List for the Indochina Atlas

1. The attached list of suggested recipients for the Indochina atlas is transmitted in response to your request. The list is divided into two parts; a general distribution list, and a VIP list. The general distribution list includes selected persons and components within, or closely related to, the intelligence community. Although it is believed that the list includes most of the important users of an atlas of this type, a few important users have no doubt been omitted. It is expected that this initial distribution will generate a large number of requests for the atlas which must be screened and serviced through a secondary distribution.

2. The VIP list includes those high ranking Government executives and military officers who, by virtue of their positions, should find good use for the atlas. This list certainly includes many of the persons appearing on [REDACTED] list, but might provide a few supplementary names. It is felt that any person on the VIP list not selected to receive the deluxe edition of the atlas should receive the standard version.

3. The general distribution list presently contains 101 addressees for a total of 111 copies of the small atlas and 16 copies of the large atlas. These totals do not include copies to be held within OBI as file or library copies. The VIP list includes an additional 22 addressees who presumably would receive one copy each of either a large or small deluxe edition.

4. In order to keep the demand for the atlas to a minimum each copy of the atlases disseminated on the initial distribution will include an attachment stating that stocks of the atlas are limited, but that extra copies of any of the maps included can be obtained from the CIA Map Library.
